

Miss Morghan started her training when she was 7 years old at Debra Collier's School of Dance, where she trained in modern, ballet, tap and jazz. When she was 12, she began training in all styles of dance at Astound Dance Academy as a member of the Astound Performance Company where she also served as a classroom assistant. As a member of the APC, Morghan helped her team earn many high point awards. Currently, she trains at Astound Dance Academy as well as New American Youth Ballet in Fort Wayne, Indiana. Miss Morghan has taken many classes at conventions including DanceMakers, Chicago National Association of Dance Masters (CNADM), Adrenaline, and MusicWorks. She continues to take every opportunity that she can to learn from well known instructors to further her training. Miss Morghan is excited to continue spreading her passion for dance at Astound Dance Academy.
